Norsemen,

We've not had it easy.

We've faced countless challenges, each pushing us to our limits. We've shouldered the weight of our own worries and burdens, but we've also stood strong for our classmates and our teachers, who have carried their own struggles.

We've been in the spotlight on stage, under pressure in the classroom and in the heat of competition on the field. We've seen moments when even our teachers and mentors have been uncertain, wondering if they could keep going. And through it all, we've felt that same question echoing within us: Are we strong enough? Can we overcome what lies ahead?

We've been pushed to our breaking points, tested and tried in every possible way. We've been at the edge, sometimes doubting ourselves, sometimes wondering if the journey is worth it. We've failed tests that seemed impossible, lost games that were crucial and sacrificed things that we loved for a chance to stand where we are now.

And yet, despite everything, we didn't give up. Each challenge that tried to break us down only strengthened us.

We passed those tough classes, even when we thought we couldn't. We showed up to every game, cheering and celebrating each victory and pushing through every failure. We dressed up, stood out and made our presence known, no matter what the world thought of us. We accepted setbacks and turned them into stories. Our staff stood by us even when it was hard, because their love and belief in us ran deeper than any obstacle.

We are more than just students, and we are more than just teachers. We are a family. When we come together, we are a force to be reckoned with. We are a union built on trust, loyalty and shared struggle. And no matter how hard the challenges try to break us down we know that:

Together we are resilient

Together we are strong

Together we are

UNBREAKABLE
